It's a new year - what are you doing to make it a successful year for yourself and your company?

It's Your Business - a newsletter from Integrated Process Developers, Inc.

January, 2008

Project Management represents a vital skill set within any successful organization. Without thoughtful planning, execution and monitoring of effects, organizations will lose business to those that effectively manage their products. What are you and your organization doing to prevent this?

Integrated Process Developers, Inc. (IPDI) can work with your company to improve the effectiveness of your company's projects through our onsite and online course offerings.

This issue of It's Your Business newsletter focuses on the importance of Project Management Professional (PMP) certification.

Project Management Professional (PMP)

It's a new year, new beginnings, fresh expectations. Maybe yours are to improve your career and your company's success. In this day and age, just about everyone works on some kind of project. Could your projects be planned better? Executed more efficiently? Controlled more effectively?

To that end, Project Management has become a rapidly growing career field. Qualified Project Managers are highly desired and can be highly rewarded for their work. If you are looking to stand out from the crowd in this competitive field, obtaining PMP® certification can elevate your status and allow you to command a salary that far exceeds non-credentialed Project Managers.

Many Project Managers recognize the importance of PMP® Certification, but struggle to find the time to schedule timely classroom training. Recognizing the need for more convenient, high quality training options, Integrated Process Developers, Inc., a PMI Registered Education Provider® (REP®), is proud to offer a unique and affordable online Project Management Training Program.

Our online learning program is an extremely convenient way to prepare for the PMP® Exam and can easily fit into your already busy schedule. Courses are 100% web-based, in self-study format for convenience and delivered anytime and anywhere with internet access, making learning possible 24 hours per day, 7 days per week, and 365 days per year.

Work - Family - Health - Friends - Spirit

Imagine life as a game in which you are juggling some five balls in the air. You name them - Work - Family - Health - Friends - Spirit, and you're keeping all of these in the air.

You will soon understand that work is a rubber ball. If you drop it, it will bounce back. But the other four balls -- family, health, friends and spirit are made of glass. If you drop one of these, they will be irrevocably scuffed, marked, nicked, damaged or even shattered.

They will never be the same. You must understand that and strive for balance in your life. How?

Courses train busy professionals in nine critical knowledge areas, including: Project Processes, Managing People, Project Communications, Project Scope and Tracking, Project Scheduling and Time Management, Project Cost Management, Risk Management, Project Quality Management and Project Procurement Management.

Each course combines text, graphics, interactive exercises, practice tests, real world examples, web references and readings to help learners quickly retain lessons. An innovative "Ask the Expert" feature also gives learners ongoing support, allowing participants to pose questions about course content and receive an answer from a subject matter expert within 24 hours.

If you are responsible for the training of your company's Project Managers, IPDI's onsite and online programs can be a great resource for you as well. Courses can be delivered in either a self-paced, onsite instructor-led, or blended format and content can be customized to include propriety content that applies to your specific industry. Our online Course Management System allows for social networking to increase learner interactivity. Also, our unique Dashboard allows you to track your learners' progress through the course.

Participants successfully completing this program earn 35 Professional Development Units and are well prepared for the PMP® certification exam. Or, if you already have your PMP® certification and need Professional Development Units (PDU's) for re-certification, IPDI offers a variety of online courses that review PMBOK® knowledge concepts as well as other management and leadership development courses vital to a Project Manager's training and qualify learners for 3.5 PDU's.
